GINSENG.

The Yosemite Ginseng Garden is the oldest and first of its kind in Casey county, so far as is known to the writer, and is indebted for its existence to the following incident:

A few years ago, two strangers passing as fruit tree agents happened to lodge over night with me; they learned that I was familiar with the ginseng plant, endeavored to engage my services as a "Sag digger," the plan being for me to dig all that I could find and employ other diggers, from which I gathered that if these men could afford to go abroad in search of the wild plant for nursery purposes, paying high prices for same, that it would pay me to grow the plant on my own account. Accordingly I at once laid out a suitable piece of land, so inclosing it as to keep out all intruders, at the same time supplying the necessary shade. I visited some sag gardens to an adjoining county, purchased a book of instructions and thus equipped I began the cultivation of the plant. The phenomenal success attending my efforts soon attracted the attention of others so that now there are a number of small gardens in the county and more in prospect.

GEO. M. STATON

To The Democracy of Lincoln County.

A number of my friends from various sections of the county have requested me to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for judge of the Lincoln county court, and after giving the subject careful consideration I have decided to do so. I realize that this is not only an honorable, but a very important position, and it is not for me to say that I am the man for the place, but if the democracy of the county sees fit to name me as the standard bearer of the party, I will greatly appreciate the honor, and do my utmost, as I have always done in the past, in helping the party to achieve a victory in the final contest, and, if elected, I will to the best of my ability discharge the duties of the office faithfully and impartially. To those who already have so generously and voluntarily extended to me their cordial, earnest and active support I hereby tender my grateful thanks.

Russia is hurrying troops into Port Arthur and preparing for a siege, the Japanese threatening to take the place within two months. It is believed the Japanese boats are still scouting around Port Arthur, as desultory firing is heard at sea.

Nearly Forfeits His Life.

A runaway almost ending fatally, started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. For four years it defied all doctors and all remedies. But Bucklen's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for Burns, Bruises, Skin Eruptions and Piles. 25c at Penny's Drug Store.

Benjamin Harrod, one of Nelson county's most prominent men, is dead.

HON. HARVEY HELM.

The following is taken from the Lancaster Record. It appeared under a good cut of the splendid gentleman: This distinguished gentleman, who is a candidate for Congress in this district, subject to the action of the democratic party, is thoroughly equipped for the place, and the manner in which he has discharged important public trusts is sufficient apology for this notice. He was born in the sixties, attended the Academy at Stanford, graduated at Central University in 1887, taught school at Perryville in 1888, and was admitted to the bar in 1889. He was elected to the Legislature in 1893, county attorney in 1897 and again in 1901. He was a delegate to the national convention in 1900 and will go to Congress in 1904. His contributions to local campaigns have exceeded those of any other man, and he is amply able and perfectly willing to contribute all that will be necessary to conduct the campaign and carry the democratic banner to victory, in the event of his nomination. He is by no means a pauper candidate. The district is safely 3,000 democratic, and the old theory, that it requires a barrel to win, should be eliminated from the campaign and let the race be made upon the merits and just claims of the candidates.

It is not a crime to have money, but a blessing. Yet, when it is used to gain favor in politics it becomes a curse. What chance has a man of ordinary means with Hearst, who is able to bid $2,000,000 for the presidential nomination? Money does not disqualify the owner, and should not disqualify his opponent. The emoluments should be distributed without reference to money, and then the officer will be closer to "The Great Common People."

Lincoln county democracy is always true in all district races, and yet she has not had a democratic Congressman since 1828. She now offers a man who is honest, capable and whose fidelity to his party is absolutely beautiful. Learned in the law, ready of speech, familiar with the issues of the day—he is ready to grapple with the most profound proposition and advocate that which favors the general welfare. One who has the courage to maintain his convictions and whose character is beyond reproach.

It goes without saying that we will all be for the nominee, but the expression, that the resources of the subject of this sketch were insufficient, provoked a denial and the foregoing comments.

DEMOCRAT.

MATRIMONIAL.

James J. Cloyd and Miss Ella B. Fox will be married at D. B. Fox's on the 24th.

Droz, a prominent young business man of Cleveland, Ohio, were married Saturday at Mr. James T. Jones', Rev. J. W. Hagin officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Droz drove to Moreland and took the train for Cleveland, where Mr. Droz has a nice home at No. 800 Woodland Ave.

Miss Janie Eason and Bert Houseman were married near Battle, Mercer county, and their wedding is tinged with romance. Mr. Houseman lives at Springfield, Ill., and about two years ago he met a man from that county, who was visiting relatives in Springfield. Houseman told the Kentuckian that he had always heard that Kentucky produced the prettiest women in the world, and that he wanted one of them for a wife. He asked the man from the Bluegrass to give him the name of a suitable young woman, and the name of Miss Eason was given him. Houseman at once wrote her a letter, to which she soon replied. Photographs were exchanged and the correspondence kept up until finally Houseman wrote to the young woman telling her that he was coming to Kentucky to claim her as his bride, and asked her to fix the date. Everything was satisfactory with her, and she decided that it was simply a waste of time to delay matters longer and fixed Tuesday as the day. Houseman arrived on schedule time, and within five hours after he came he had married Miss Eason.

ATLANTA, GA.

SINCE our last issue the editor of this paper has made a brief, but delightful visit to his brother, Mr. T. R. Walton, in Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Walton is well known to many of our readers, who will be glad to learn that he is prospering in his adopted Southern home. Atlanta has no citizen more loyal to her interests than Mr. W., who is never happier than when singing the praises of the "Gate City."

Just a year has elapsed since the writer visited Atlanta and the improvements during that short time are most marked. "Greater Atlanta" seems to be the slogan of the citizens of the magnificent city and they not only talk Atlanta, but build Atlanta. Both the resident and business sections of the city bear decided evidence of prosperity and buildings by the score have been erected. A 10-story business house is being built corner Marietta and Peachtree streets by the Fourth National Bank, while the Coca Cola Co. is erecting one a story higher further up on Peachtree. Ere long the First Baptist church will build a $150,000 edifice, having sold their old church for $81,000, and the congregation of the First Methodist church have begun one to cost about a similar amount. Uncle Sam has bought ground for a $1,000,000 postoffice, a new depot to cost in the neighborhood of a million is a certainty and many other buildings are to go up when the weather opens. Certainly Atlanta has taken on new life and the writer predicts that in 10 years she will rival in size, business and appearance such western cities as Louisville and Cincinnati.

The Federal Prison is one of the interesting places round Georgia's capital. There are 700 convicts, including a number of Indians. McKnight, the Louisville bank wrecker, who was tried a half dozen or so times, is one of the "distinguished" prisoners. The buildings and grounds are kept in perfect order, the warden and deputies are courteous, and but for the sadness that the sight of the able bodied and good-looking men in confinement brings on, would be a pleasant place to visit.

There are some 1,200 soldiers at McPherson Barracks now and that is another place the sightseers almost invariably visit. Soldiers are not popular with Atlantians, however, and even their brass buttons do not win favor with the Georgia ladies. The fact is so many of the soldiers have misbehaved in the city and are considered so "abhorred" in their ways that they have very few friends in or around Atlanta.

Atlanta's street car system is well-nigh perfect and her people are justly proud of it. Cars run to all of the suburban towns, some eight to 10 miles distant, and the round trip costs only a dime. There is little or no waiting for cars as they run every three minutes on many lines and not less than from five to 15 on the long routes.

There's "nothing doing" in politics in Georgia now. Gov. Terrell is making a fine executive, the democratic party is in power and the goose hangs high. In Georgia, as it is in Kentucky once more, a democratic nomination is equivalent to an election and consequently the "Corn Cracker" State never has a bad governor.

Atlanta has grown so large that she has found it necessary to have a branch postoffice. It is located on the south side of the city and Station B, as it is called, is the source of much conveniences.

The handsome suburban residence of the late Gen. John B. Gordon will likely be reproduced at the St. Louis World's Fair. It is a palatial old southern home and admirers of the gallant dead soldier and patriot find pleasure in seeing a good deal of time at the hospitable old place.

An Orphan's Home, built by Rev. Sam P. Jones, is another of the many good things Atlanta has. Cox's Seminary is quite a noted school for young women, some 300 attending just now. The graded school system is excellent and there are numerous institutions of learning in the city and surrounding it.

Atlanta's usually delightful climate was on its bad behavior while the writer was there and the weather was no better than we were having at the same time in this section. A snow nearly six inches deep has fallen there this winter but it did not stay on the ground long.

This feeble pen has written so much about Atlanta from time to time that it is feared the I. J. readers think the subject worn out before this, but that is where they are wrong. The Gate City is a great place and the more one sees of it the better he likes it and the more he feels like sounding its praises. E. C. W.

THE Japanese all over the United States are raising large sums of money and volunteering aid to their country in her struggle. This is in marked contrast to the Russians here, who so far as the newspapers are able to ascertain have made no effort toward giving assistance to their mother country, which goes to prove that many of those who are fighting in the Czar's army are doing so from compulsion and not from the spirit of patriotism. The impression has all along prevailed that the Russian government is more or less tyrannical and the fact that those of that country who are now out of its clutches take but little interest in it and manifest no patriotism whatever, gives the color of truth to the belief that Russia is in no great measure misjudged.

THE Senate Committee on reappointment of judicial districts met and killed the Hargle-Redwine house bill proposing to take the county of Breathitt from the twenty-second judicial district, by adopting a substitute for it. The substitute leaves Breathitt where it is at present and makes a new district of the counties of Knott, Floyd and Magoffin. The Governor is to appoint the judge and commonwealth's attorney for the new district to serve until the election of this year.

Gov. Herrick and W. E. Cox are out of the race for the United States Senate from Ohio to succeed the late M. A. Hanna, and it is now certain that the honor will go to Hon. Charles W. Dick.

In the democratic primary for county offices in Woodford Saturday Judge L. H. Parrish defeated James F. Wilbott for sheriff by 85 votes. E. Mulcahy won the nomination for representative by 400 votes. W. D. Jesse defeated W. O. Davis and two others for county attorney by 300 votes. John H. Barnett was chosen assessor. The other officers were elected without opposition.

The House by a vote of 75 to 5, passed the Day bill prohibiting coeducation of the races in the State, several republicans voting for the bill after it had been so amended as to permit schools under the same management. The House passed the Senate bill extending the common school term to six months, but refused to call up for passage the bill correcting some features of the School Book Act. The Senate passed the bills changing the appellate court districts and providing for the resale of franchise of public utility companies at the end of 20 years.

associated with a good reputation is part of a man's inheritance. A name associated with good merchandise is part of one's capital. You can be your name as an inheritance, and the law makes you its sole owner, provided yours is not "John Smith." Your dealer should be a man who can merchandise by its name. All wool should not be a cotton mixture, else it should be called "bum" wool. Half silk should not be called a silk, but flatty "half silk." All linen should not be called linen, but "union linen." THE Daughters of the Confederacy will meet with Mrs. J. S. Owsley, Jr., this Tuesday afternoon. A full attendance is requested as arrangements will be made for the reception to be given Mrs. Pickett on the evening of her lecture here March 1.

AN effort is being made by a number of local capitalists to start up a creamery here, with milk stations at Hustonville, McKinney, Crab Orchard, Maywood and Lytle. As there is no such enterprise in this section of country there is every reason to believe that it will succeed if vigorously pushed.

REPAIR SHOP—Mr. Clyde Twedie, who for three years was in Manila Bay repainting the Spanish battle ships sunk by Admiral Dewey, has located in Stanford and will open a carriage repair and paint shop. He was employed for 14 years by the Studebaker Co. of South Bend, Ind., and comes well recommended.

In a letter containing subscription money for another year, Miss Sallie Green writes from Guilford, D. T., as follows: "We have had a most remarkable winter here—warm and sunny almost continuously. Our little city continues to grow rapidly. We now have eight railroads, with good prospects for many other improvements. Truly this is a great country."

MOORE—Dr. Green Moore, one of the best citizens and physicians of the county, died at his home in McKinney Saturday morning, aged 63. He had been in bad health for some time but the immediate cause of his death was paralysis. Dr. Moore was twice married, and his last wife and eight children survive. After funeral services at his late home by Rev. Mills, of Hustonville, the remains, of which order he was a member in high standing, took charge of the remains and laid them to rest in McKinney cemetery Sunday afternoon.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.—Sunday night about 9 o'clock Arthur Barrett, who lives at the White farm on the Danville pike, was aroused by an attempt of burglars to break into the house. They were exceedingly bold and on finding that Mr. Barrett was totally unarmed tried to effect an entrance by breaking down the door. Barnett believing that they would be successful, telephoned to town for assistance and Messrs. J. R. Beazley and W. W. Hays responded with all possible speed, but the would-be robbers had made good their escape and have not been heard of since.

BUCHANAN.—Andrew Whitely Buchanan, one of Lincoln county's brightest and most promising young men, died at Crab Orchard at 2 o'clock Monday morning of consumption, aged 27. He had been in failing health for some years and his death did not come as a surprise to his many friends. Mr. Buchanan realized some two years ago that he had lung trouble and went West, hoping to find relief but failed and he returned to his home at Crab Orchard some two months ago. Since that time he had been confined to his bed. He was the second son of the late John Buchanan, was a fine young man and the possessor of an unusually bright mind. He graduated from the Centre College Law School but his health would not permit his practice of law. Many years ago he joined the Presbyterian church and he was both ready and willing to die. Mr. Buchanan was very popular and his legion of friends are downcast at his early demise. Much sympathy is felt for the aged mother and the sisters and brothers who survive. At 2 o'clock this afternoon after services at his late home the remains will be interred in Crab Orchard cemetery.

WANTED, to buy a second-hand type writer. This office.

THE Danville Advocate contains a long interview with Judge Robert J. Breckinridge, who gives reasons for believing that it is Boyle county's time to name the Senator for this district. But if we are not badly mistaken the people of the district-at-large will do the naming and it will be a Lincoln county man too.

DENN—Mr. Harry Dunn, aged 80, died at his home at Rowland Sunday morning of heart trouble and was buried in the Lancaster cemetery after services at the grave by Eld. F. M. Tindler yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dunn was a brother of Mrs. John Bright, of this place, was a member of the Christian church and a clever man and good citizen. His wife died a number of years ago.

W. Dillion, J. H. Swops, James Messer, David Fox, C. T. Sandidge, J. E. Jones, J. S. Murphy, A. J. Thompson, O. J. Crow and J. B. Floyd.

Accept the congratulations of all those of us who are left, upon your most able and talented work. We sincerely hope that it may meet all the success it deserves and be taken to all hearts and homes, as it should be." Mrs. Pickett will lecture at Walton's Opera House next Tuesday night, March 1. Perfect Confidence.

Where there used to be a feeling of uneasiness and worry in the household when a child showed symptoms of croup, there is now perfect confidence. This is owing to the uniform success of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the treatment of that disease. Mr. M. I. Basford, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of his experience in the use of that remedy says: "I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success. My child Garland is subject to severe attacks of croup and it always gives him prompt relief." For sale by W. N. Craig.
